PROFILE

Motivated and detail-oriented aspiring Software Engineer with six months of industry experience in full-stack web development using Laravel, React.js, Next.js, PHP, JavaScript, and MySQL. Currently a final-year undergraduate pursuing a BSc (Hons) in Computing and Information Systems at Sabaragamuwa University of Sri Lanka, with the degree program expected to be completed in August 2026. Experienced in developing responsive web applications, designing RESTful APIs, and working with database-driven systems in an Agile development environment. Passionate about building high-quality software, learning new technologies, and contributing effectively to collaborative development teams. Seeking an Associate Software Engineer or Software Engineer position where I can apply my technical skills and continue to grow as a software engineer.
